

Islamic World Lecture Series

Center for South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies

presents

Violence and Globalization: Women Seeking Freedom in the War Zone

A Talk and Musical Performance by Evelyne Accad

Saturday, November 14 at 2:30pm
in the Lewis Auditorium of The Urbana Free Library
210 West Green Street • Urbana

Evelyne Accad is a renowned teacher, author, musician and activist. She was born and raised in Beirut, Lebanon. Since 1974 she has taught a broad range of subjects at the University of Illinois that reflect her intense curiosity and varied areas of expertise: French, Comparative Literature, African Studies, Women Studies, and Middle Eastern Studies. Accad is the author of several books, including a memoir about her experiences facing cancer. She is also a musician and composer and has performed in both the United States and abroad.

Co-Sponsored by:
The Urbana Free Library
The Women and Gender in Global Perspectives Program

Center for South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies <http://www.csames.illinois.edu/>

