Lebanese Currency

The Lebanese Pound is the official currency of Lebanon.

October 2008 Exchange Rate:
1 Lebanese Pound (LBP) = 0.0006531 US Dollar (USD)
1 US Dollar = 1,531.08 Lebanese Pound

One Thousand Pounds

The front and back of the one thousand pounds banknote pays homage to the Arabic alphabet.

All of Lebanon’s currency has the same background of modern geometric designs symbolizing the reconstruction of Lebanon. The banknotes each have 16 squares on the face of the note symbolizing both the reconstruction of Lebanon and the front gates of the Central Bank of Lebanon. In the background of the banknote are 25 rectangles symbolizing the unity of the 25 regions of the Lebanon. This unity constitutes the guarantee of the safety, the prosperity and the future of Lebanon.

Five Thousand Pounds

The reconstructive blocks are evident on the five thousand pounds banknote, along with the famous Lebanese cedar tree and geometric designs.
Ten Thousand Pounds

Illustrated on the ten thousand pounds note are the Lebanon Mountains and a local monument.

Fifty Thousand Pounds

Cedar trees and boats grace the fifty thousand pounds note, alluding to Lebanon’s geographic location on the Mediterranean Sea.

One Hundred Thousand Pounds

The one hundred thousand pounds banknote depicts the crops of Lebanon.