Moroccan Currency

The Moroccan Dirham is the official currency of Morocco.

October 2008 Exchange Rate:
1 Moroccan Dirham (MAD) = 0.11965 USD
1 USD = 8.35800 MAD

Twenty Dirhams

The illustration on the front of the twenty dirhams banknote features King Mohammed VI, the current king of Morocco, and the Bab Challah in Morocco.

The Oudayas Kasbah of Rabat, the quarter around the citadel in the capital of Morocco, is depicted on the reverse side of the banknote.

Fifty Dirhams

King Mohhamed VI is portrayed again on the front of the fifty dirhams banknote.

The reverse side of the banknote displays a clay-made building in the Ksour region of Morocco’s Sahara.
One Hundred Dirhams

Mohammed V, along with Mohhamed VI and Hassan II grace the front of the one hundred dirhams banknote.

The Green March, a Moroccan mass demonstration to force Spain to hand over the province of Sahara to Morocco, is shown on the back of the banknote.

Two Hundred Dirhams

Located on the front of the two hundred dirhams banknote is Morrocco’s current King, Mohammed VI, and his father, former King Hassan II.

A window of the Hassan II mosque in Casablanca, Morocco is situated on the reverse side of the banknote.